PUTTING A CREW ON GOLD WEDGE

(By Associated Press.) BUTTE, MONT., Oct. 20.—A crew was put on a gold wedge. The crew was working on a gold mine.

The Tonopah Divide mine will be sunk at once to the water level from its present depth of 582 feet, in order to reach the sulphide zone at between 700 and 800 feet, where it is expected that a second enrichment will occur. This action is taken on the recommendation of George H. Garrey, the geologist of Philadelphia, who gave the property his close attention during the first six months of the year. Mr. Garrey is consulting engineer for the Tonopah Belmont Development company and is known for his geological analyses of southern Nevada. He left here three months ago with his field notes, for the purpose of making a report of the surface and underground workings of the Tonopah Divide.

Garrey's report is in the hands of the Tonopah Divide officials and H. B. Brougher, president of the company, stated at Oakland Saturday that the plan of development decided upon as a result of this investigation will do much to prove the future of the divide district. Cal. Brougher stated that additional ore bodies would be discovered as development proceeded. On account of the thoroughly oxidized condition of the vein zone and the ore shoots already exposed, Garrey forecasts an other body of ore at the permanent ground water level due to sulphide enrichment. Accordingly, Brougher stated, it has been decided to immediately resume sinking the shaft and continue it to water level to reach additional ore bodies in the oxidized zone and also expose the sulphide enrichment at and below the water level.

BUTTE DIVIDE HAS $95 ORE

An important development has occurred in the Butte Divide which gives the stock of that company an impetus greater than what had been expected at any time since the ore body was opened in the shaft. This ledge was cut a few days before the strike was called at a depth of 150 feet, where it occurred in the shaft. Drifting was begun when work ceased. At that time the best assays derived from the vein were 425. Since resuming work the drift has been continued close to the Belcher line where the ore body is found to be two feet wider than when first opened with values near 200 per cent better, averaging 825. The Butte force is within twenty feet of the Belcher line and the Belcher company has entered into an arrangement by which it will begin extracting ore from the Butte ledge in Belcher ground through the Butte shaft. A crosscut has been sent out to the west to pick up a parallel fissure vein which shows on the surface which is expected to be found at a distance of 100 feet from the shaft. The Butte shaft will be sunk another fifty feet when stopping will begin without further delay.

White at San Francisco last week J. F. Shaughnessy, representing the public service commission of Nevada, appeared before the regional rate committee of the United States railroad administration in regard to the request for favorable freight rates on ores from Plumas county, California, to the Wabushka smelter in this state. Arrangements have been made, Mr. Shaughnessy reports, for an early hearing and determination of the rates. The commission is hopeful of success and that the Wabushka smelter may be thus able to secure the necessary ores and concentrates which it requires for smelting operations.

Mr. Shaughnessy declares that from a rate-fixing standpoint Wabushka is clearly entitled to an advantage over Tacoma, Washington and Salt Lake City, Utah, smelters, which are bidding for the traffic in question.

OPEN SHOP INFLAMES GAREYS IRE

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Reaffirming his refusal to negotiate with representatives of labor unions not employed in any plant of the United States Steel corporation, Elbert Gary, chairman of the corporation's board of directors, informed Chairman Lane of the national industrial conference and Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor that he would not recede from his stand for the open shop.

Gary is understood to have expressed fear of the consequences of further recognition of labor unions. The effect of his announcement on the industrial conference remained to be developed.
